

Worthing Swimming Club Press Release 29/09/2011:

“Worthing's divers shine at novice competition”

Worthing Swimming Clubs divers recently competed in the Sussex county novice diving competition. This has been introduced to try and develop divers in the county and bring them up to a standard which will enable them to progress to compete in the South East Regional Novice competitions. This is the first time this competition has been done and some of these divers are competing for the first time.

Tara Osbourne is going from strength to strength by coming first in the girls competition following on from her first and second in the plain diving competition back in July. Emily Milner and Charlotte LeMerle also have progressed well from July and this was shown by them coming third and second respectively in the girls competition.

Joe Cowtan and Joshua Urben have shown what can happen if you put the work in by coming first and second in the boys competition. Unfortunately only divers from Worthing competed which was a real shame as Crawley hosted the competition, but also because it would have been nice for the Worthing divers to have had more competition.
